

May 2022 Newsletter

CEO's Greetings

This month, we'll be coming together for our first networking event in over two years – see you in London on 18 May!

In other news, the ATC's Stand Out – Be Outstanding Competition has kicked off, and we point you towards new GDPR guidance, help you implement MT, and introduce you to our partners and new members.

Raisa McNab

18 May Networking Event

Join us in London on Wednesday 18 May for shop talk, networking, meeting old friends, and making new ones in the language services industry with the ATC, LocLunch London, and Women in Localization UK Chapter. And if the weather holds, after-work drinks of the rooftop!

READ MORE

Stand Out - Be Outstanding

Does your company provide services to other language service companies? If the answer is yes, you need to take part in the Stand Out – Be Outstanding Competition in May! Forge new collaborations and showcase your services to ATC members.

READ MORE

How to implement MT

Implementing MT can be a challenge, but in May there are two amazing events to get you going! Sign up for lingo systems' LSP Tech Talk on 11 May here. Then join Women in Localization UK Chapter's MT Busters on 12 May here. Both totally free of charge!

New GDPR Guides

The new TEW GDPR report sheds light on grey areas of GDPR implementation and compliance in the industry, and the updated EUATC GDPR Guide helps you manage risk with personal data in content for translation.

READ MORE

Partner Profile: Gespoint

Get to know the people behind the ATC's Technology and Associate Partners providing outstanding services and technology solutions to language service companies. This month, meet Lara Vazquez from Gespoint translation management system in Spain.

READ MORE

Collaborative Research

Taegan Jones Skinner's Dissertation from the University of Portsmouth's MA Translation Studies explores the effect of the well-documented UK decline in foreign language learning on language service companies' access to native English translators.

READ MORE

Member of the Month

The ATC's Member of the Month is Comtec Translations, a Midlands-based language service company that keeps its family business heritage at its heart, and last year's winner of the PM Team of the Year Award.

READ MORE

Welcome New Members

dialogue

UTC Interpreting

